Keeping the Records Straight: Fall Claims Reminders

Crops may still be growing in the field, but it’s not too soon to consider some actions to take before and during harvest time to ensure a successful end to your growing season.

Quality Issues
2016 saw a mycotoxin and fungal infection outbreak that affected many of our area growers. Early detection is key. Report potential diseases to your agent immediately so that a claim can be submitted. In most cases, samples are required to be taken by an adjuster before your grain can enter storage.

Bin Measurements
If you plan to combine new production from the current year with older grain still in the bin from previous harvests, contact us first so that an adjuster can come out and measure your bins before the crops are comingled.

Load Record Maintenance
Maintaining timely records goes a long way to ensuring an accurate claim. Load records are an acceptable form of documentation when used to keep production separate by unit or field location. These written forms can include information from non-portable farm scales, combine monitors, truck records or grain carts that are capable of producing printed tickets. They must be contemporaneous, with records originating from the time of harvest.

If in doubt, feel free to call our office or reach out to your agent to discuss any questions you may have about preparing for harvest claims.

DSA Now Offering Margin Protection Policies

We are excited to announce a new product available through our agency that can help protect your bottom line in 2018!

Margin Protection (MP) is an area-based insurance coverage option that has been expanded to Indiana for the upcoming crop year.

MP provides protection for Corn & Soybeans against an unexpected reduction in operating margin (revenue less input costs), caused by decreased county yields, lowered commodity prices, increased prices of certain overhead, or any combination of these risks. Margin Protection can be purchased in addition to your current Revenue Protection or Yield Protection policy.

The sales closing date for Margin Protection is September 30, which is fast approaching. Contact your agent today for more details on Margin Protection and how it can benefit your operation.
